Forecast for Friday 30 Jun 2023

Weather: Quickly turning cloudier with outbreaks of rain through the morning. Showery rain and drizzle is likely at times during the day but some drier periods are also possible, more so in the mid-afternoon. Rain and drizzle becoming more persistent by the evening.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 20%

Low cloud and visibility: Patchy cloud developing above 600m soon after dawn, becoming more persistent through the morning with periods of cloud around 500-600m for the remainder of the day. During any prolonged periods of rain and drizzle the cloud may lower to 400m, especially through the morning. Often moderate to good visibilities at lower levels, despite the rain, but frequently poor or very poor at higher levels due to cloud and persistent rain/drizzle.
